

sarah's style column

Last year I became the proud owner of a beautiful engagement ring. I bought every wedding magazine – gosh they are expensive, but packed with great ideas and inspiration.

As the details came together it became apparent how important the colour scheme was. I was constantly asked “what’s your colour scheme”? I had clear ideas about what I wanted everyone to wear and how I wanted all these colours to tie in with the rest of the day. My wedding party had all had their colours analysed so they all knew that this was going to be a colourful affair. I had a colour swatch of my dress, bridesmaids dress, groom’s suit, my dad and the best man’s suits, and my wedding stationery close at hand at all times. So what about you?

- Are you a new bride-to-be?
- Are you looking for some inspiration for your big day?
- Does the idea of arranging a wedding seem like a daunting thought? Where do you even begin?

This is where Personal Colour Analysis can help you...

What is Personal Colour Analysis?

Personal Colour Analysis will show you the colours that really suit you and make you look radiant and feel fabulous – not only on the Big Day - but every day.

Understanding which colours work in harmony with your natural skin, hair and eye colour will open your eyes to a whole new world.

During this session you will discover:

- The best colour for your wedding dress - white, cream, ivory, mink, champagne. Or perhaps you’ll see yourself walking down the aisle in another colour!
- How to choose a fabulous going-away outfit in one of your perfect colours, and how to create the wardrobe for your dream honeymoon.
- Which colours to choose for make-up, hair and nail colour that all match YOU.
- Your best option for wedding accessories as far as colour is concerned.

This Bridal session takes place in Esher, and lasts around 2 hours and costs £110.00. This price includes a full colour analysis session and a personal swatch wallet of your colours and also a separate bridal swatch wallet of your best wedding dress colours.

Why not bring your bridesmaid or your mum, or your mother in law to be? These sessions are great fun and an ideal girls’ outing.

The cost is £90.00 and includes a full colour analysis session and advice as to which colour to choose for the particular outfit which will work in harmony with your chosen wedding colour scheme. This session will last for 1.5 hours.

So, why not use this as an excuse for a girl’s day out to get excited about the most important day of your life.
